

Educational Support for Schools

Changing Culture Transforming Learning

Establishing a culture of learning

This training session is about two words 'Awareness' and 'Responsibility'.
First, developing 'awareness' of all adults about the criteria for good teaching and learning.
Second, promoting 'responsibility' for personal development regarding the quality of teaching in each class. The programme will seek to create a whole school consensus as to what good teaching looks like based on 'values' and current research on learning.

This programme aims to:

- Agreed features of outstanding classroom practice
- The role of adults in developing effective learning for all
- Creating a learning culture in which adults develop professional learning
- Developing aspects of personalised learning
